Harry Sargeant IV has been around the oil industry from a very young age. After graduating from Florida State University with a dual degree in International Affairs and Arabic, he attended graduate school at the University of Cairo in Cairo, Egypt where he achieved his MBA in International Marketing.

Upon graduation, Harry started his career in vessel operations for one of the largest bitumen trading companies in the world. Harry currently conducts business development for the Global Oil Management Group. He has assisted in the formation and operation of partnerships with international commodity trading groups and started new business lines in challenging foreign jurisdictions.

Harry believes that despite the world transitioning to a virtual realm, developing strong personal relationships, face to face, is the key to achieving success in international business.
